REGISTRATION

SHOP AND ESTABLISHMENT REGISTRATION

Shop and Establishment

In India, businesses like shops, restaurants, and cafes must register under the Shop and Establishment Act to ensure proper working conditions and protect workers' rights. This Act varies by state and covers establishments such as shops, hotels, and theaters.

FSSAI Registration

In India, anyone in the food industry must have an FSSAI license, mandated by the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI). This license is required for all Food Business Operators (FBOs) involved in various food-related activities. The FSSAI ensures food quality and safety, regulated by the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006.

Trade License

A trade license is a legal permit allowing an individual to start a specific business in a particular area, ensuring compliance with safety provisions set by the State Municipal Corporation. It protects residents from health hazards but doesn't permit activities beyond its scope or transfer property ownership to the holder.

Health Trade License

The Health Trade License is a mandatory permit for businesses involved in trading goods and services affecting consumer health. Entities like restaurants, hotels, cinemas, gyms, and others must obtain this license before starting operations.

Employees Provident Fund

EPF provides retirement benefits for employees, ensuring financial security and social stability. Employers with over 20 employees must register for EPF, complying with mandatory guidelines

ESIC

Employee state Insurance Act

The Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948 established ESIC (Employee State Insurance Corporation) under the Ministry of Labor and Employment. It's a self-financed social security scheme providing medical and monetary benefits to Indian workers.

Professional
Tax in India

Professional tax

Professional Tax is levied by State Governments on professions, trades, and employment to fund infrastructure. Its applicability depends on income from these sources and varies by state. Freelancers must obtain a Professional Tax certificate according to state regulations, based on income thresholds.

FIRE NOC CERTIFICATION

Fire NOC

The Indian Fire Department issues a No Objection Certificate (NOC) after evaluating fire safety measures in a premise, ensuring compliance with standards from the Bureau of Indian Standards. NOCs vary by state, and multi-plex buildings over 15 meters must obtain a compulsory Fire NOC from the state fire services.

Pollution Control Board

Pollution Control Board

Obtaining an NOC certificate is mandatory before starting any industry to ensure compliance with environmental standards. The Pollution Control Board oversees air and water pollution issues, issuing directives and policies for pollution management. Under the Water Pollution Act, 1974, and Air Pollution Act, 1981, industries must obtain NOCs to modernize plants and manage pollution. Entrepreneurs must apply for 'consent to operate' renewal after expiry.

Employment Exchange Registration

BOCW Registration

The Government of India introduced the Building and Other Construction Workers (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1996, also known as the "BOCW Act," to address the issues faced by unskilled laborers in poor working conditions. This Act aims to regulate employment conditions, ensure worker safety, health, and welfare in the construction sector. It serves as a social welfare scheme for workers across the country. The BOCW Act coordinates with other labor laws, particularly the Factories Act 1948, to provide comprehensive coverage.

Contract Labour Registration act

This act has been enacted to regulate the employment of contract labour in certain establishments and to provide for its abolition in certain circumstances and for matters connected therewith.

LWF Registration and Other services

Labour Welfare Fund (LWF) was established by the Indian government to assist the unorganised sector. The act has been adopted by only sixteen of the thirty-six states and union territories. Employers are required to make contributions on behalf of both themselves and their employees per this act. The jurisdiction in which your company operates will determine this.

Employment Exchange Act

The Employment Exchanges (Compulsory Notification of Vacancies) Act, 1959 mandates public and certain private sector establishments in Delhi to notify vacancies. Individuals aged 14 to 45 can register online, while employers must submit quarterly returns. Exemptions apply, and penalties for non-compliance include fines and possible imprisonment.

REGISTRATION

Submission Under Equal Opportunity Act:

Ensuring fair and unbiased treatment in all aspects of employment, preventing discrimination based on protected characteristics. Providing guidance and support to ensure compliance with equal opportunity regulations, promoting diversity and inclusion, preventing discrimination and harassment, and facilitating fair treatment in hiring, promotion, and termination processes.

Licensing Government and Labor Department

Our comprehensive support extends to navigating the intricate regulatory landscape by facilitating the acquisition of permits, certifications, and approvals from government and labor departments. We ensure strict adherence to specific regulations, standards, and procedures mandated by these authorities to facilitate the smooth operation of businesses. By meticulously managing the licensing process, we aim to minimize legal risks, uphold compliance standards, and foster a conducive environment for sustained business growth and development.

HR OUTSOURCING

Payroll Processing

HR professionals understand that payroll and salary processing are fundamental and critical HR processes. Mismanagement can lead to organizational chaos. Our specialized team ensures error-free and timely services tailored to your needs. With expertise in HR analytics, we offer superior payroll analytics and operational reports for better decision-making.

Organizational Development

The bedrock of being an employer of choice is the articulation of strong and relevant HR processes that support the Organization Structure. Robust HR systems lay the foundation for a committed and productive workforce that enables the organization to attract, develop & retain talent.

We, at VDBS Group can help you design and develop HR Systems that would be relevant to the immediate needs of your organization.

Performance Management System (PMS):

The PMS system would be designed to enable the organization to harness the Individual's potential and align it with organizational goals, to create an open system of evaluating performance and giving feedback. The PMS would be oriented towards, recognition, achievement, rewards, and corrective mechanisms for improving individuals' performance.

HR Policies Development & Documentation:

Sound employment policies provide the framework within which an organization governs its employee relations. We will help develop employee policies based on the business context of the organization, the values, and beliefs.

Training & Development System:

The training and development system would be designed to enable the organization to identify the training & learning needs of individuals' and the skill gaps that need to be bridged thereby enhancing the individual's potential and the organization performance levels.

Compensation and Benefits benchmarking:

We can help our clients by undertaking compensation and benefits benchmarking studies and suggest adequate interventions that will help bring parity in the compensation and benefits pay structure.

Disciplinary Enquiry

Disciplinary enquiries in an organization are usually outcome of misconduct or misbehaviour. These cases are sensitive in nature and of not managed well have the potential in turning into labour disputes inviting litigation. Our team of experts can be deputed to be part of the domestic enquiry and conduct investigations and draft requisite documentations like charge sheet, show cause notice and termination letters.

Domestic Enquiry

A domestic inquiry in Labour Law is similar to a trial in a court of law. It happens when someone does something wrong at their workplace. This could be breaking the rules or doing something against the company's policies. The company has its own rules for how to handle these situations. The inquiry is done fairly and follows the principles of fairness.

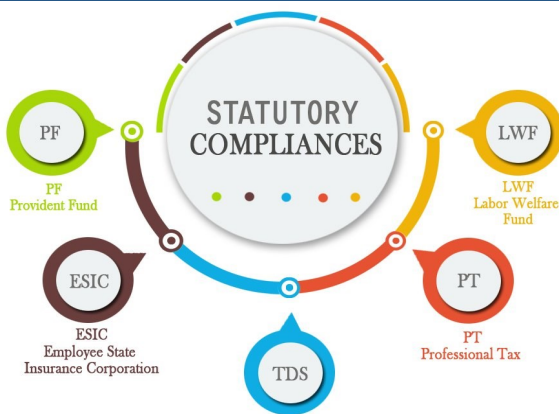

Labour Law Compliances:

Organizations today cannot afford to relax as far as statutory compliances concerned. It is always safer to get professional help to manage your labour compliances. We can provide professional expertise that will manage your labour compliances. We can assist your organization in the following ways:

- ◆ Liaise with the Central / State Govt. labour law enforcement agencies for obtaining registration / renewal under the relevant Acts as & when required.
- ◆ Advise the organization in preparation & filing of registers, records, reports, returns etc. from time to time, and communicate with any statutory authorities on behalf of the client.
- ◆ Liaise with regional & local labour law enforcement agencies for filling up of various forms, returns, challans for remittance, processing & obtaining the individuals registrations numbers, identity certificates, insurance cards, annual account statements, process loan / transfer / withdrawal applications etc.
- ◆ Update, guide & advice company regarding latest notification / orders/ amendments issued by the appropriate authorities from time to time. All reports, registers, challans etc. shall be forwarded to you in soft copy from our side.
- ◆ Conduct audit of all the locations through a team of experts empanelled with us & published at regular intervals, attend the Inspector / Officer at the time of assessment or approach them as & when required.
- ◆ Ensure the optimal labour law compliance status at Pan India level by liaise with Central, State and local authorities at pan India

Exit Management

VDBS Group can also help you in your exit management process. Be it negotiating with your employees, retention management, exit interviews we can handle it all.

Audits (HR/ Labour Laws/ Vendors)

Over a period of time, business changes in an organization may have taken place for a variety of reasons including environmental changes, organizational restructuring. Such changes should be accompanied by appropriate changes in the HR function. In such a situation a thorough evaluation of the HR function is imperative to make it more business driven. An HR Audit would help the organization to:

- ◆ Keep the HR functions' mission and goals in tune with the organizations needs and strategy
- ◆ Make the HR systems & process more robust and business driven
- ◆ Determine the effectiveness of an HR department
- ◆ Act as a quality control check on the HR activities, Establishment compliance & Vendor Audit in an organization.
- ◆ Identify and prioritize opportunities for improvement

We can conduct an evaluation of the current human resource structure, practices, policies, systems, and skills in the context of short and long-term business plans of your organization. The review can be of two types:

- ◆ Compliance Audit: It involves a legal review and a compliance check for all the HR systems in place in the organization.
- ◆ Adequacy Audit: This determines the adequacy of the current HR practices in terms of their relevance to the business goal of the organization.
